

Joe Brandley
EVP/CTO
Pechanga Technology Solutions Group

Joe Brandley is an IT Professional within the Gaming and Hospitality industry. Possessing over 10 years within the industry Joe's current role is Executive Vice President / Chief Technology Officer with Pechanga Technology Services Group, a Tribal owned consulting and professional services group. There he is leading the technology directives and initiatives for the business while also developing several new partner and customer relationships.

Prior to working for PTSG Joe held the IT Systems Manager position for Pechanga Resort & Casino managing the infrastructure team that he was previously part of for over 4 years serving as one of the lead Networking and Systems Engineers. Also an alumni of DeVry University Joe has obtained his Bachelor degree in Telecommunications Management which has provided him with a great foundation to start his career which has been built upon through years of experience within the industry.