

Ken Cunningham- Cisco

Ken Cunningham's 13 years in the data networking and telecom industry gives him an extremely broad base of experience encompassing wireless network design to class 5 switching to metro-Ethernet networks. As a Wireless Product Sales Specialist with Cisco Systems, he works with IT professionals to develop, extend and manage their business transformation initiatives relative to deployment of pervasive wireless. Prior to Cisco, Ken worked as a Strategic Account Manager for Lucent Technologies and Regional Manager for D-Link Systems. Ken lives in Mission Viejo, CA with his wife (Julie) and three daughters (Meghan, Riley and Madison.)
